Catch-22

by Joseph Heller

The time—the later stages of World War II. The place—a tiny island in the Mediterranean. The crew—the 256th Bomber Squadron. Caught in the midst of increasing quotas for bombing missions and the resulting deaths, Captain Yossarian hopes to opt out by pleading insanity. The doctor's diagnosis? Anyone "would be crazy to fly more missions and sane if he didn't, but if he was sane he had to fly them. If he flew them he was crazy and didn't have to; but if he didn't want to, he was sane and had to." Thus the dilemma—Catch-22.

UFL Reads! meets the fourth Sunday of most months.
