

The Urbana Free Library Online Computer User Agreement

1. Each user is limited to two Internet sessions per day and must use his/her own login ID. Sharing or using another user's login number violates this agreement.
2. The computer center is available only to those logged on to a computer. Those who are not logged on must wait elsewhere and may return to the back of the lab five minutes prior to their reservations.
3. To minimize crowding and noise, users may not share computers unless they have staff permission in advance.
4. Loud conversation, disruptive behavior, and obscene language are not permitted.
5. Sending or displaying offensive messages or images is prohibited.
6. The user is responsible for compliance with copyright laws (Title 17, U.S. Code and the DMCA) for all printing, copying, or downloading.
7. Each user must carry an ID to present to library staff when requested.
8. Only library staff may reboot or alter the settings, programs, software, or hardware on computers.
9. Library staff are authorized to manage the computer lab. Ignoring or arguing with staff, or calling staff names, is prohibited.

Users who violate these rules will be asked to leave the library and will lose Internet privileges. Serious or repeated violations will result in a ban from the library. Threats to any staff member or library user will be referred immediately to the Urbana Police and City Attorney.
